

Dr Chen Zhouhan
Founder
Safe Link Network

Biography

Dr Chen Zhouhan is the founder of Safe Link Network, a corporation working on cyber security. He received his PhD in Data Science from New York University and MS in Computer Science from Rice University. Additionally, he served as a Graduate Research Associate at NYU's Center for Social Media and Politics. He provides consultant services to help companies extract insights from complex data sets.

Dr Chen research lays at the intersection of social network analysis, cyber security, and machine learning with a focus on discovering and understanding the spread of misinformation across multiple platforms.