Biography

Juyeon Lee is an Assistant Professor of the Department of Social Work and Social Administration at The University of Hong Kong. Lee completed her BA and MA in Social Welfare at Seoul National University and PhD in Social Welfare at the University of California, Berkeley. Her research aims to promote mental and behavioral well-being of children and adolescents. Her research has focused on school-based social and emotional learning (SEL), exploring the mechanisms and contexts of successful SEL interventions that are effective, sustainable, and equity-enhancing. Lee is currently leading several projects related to SEL in Hong Kong, mainland China, and South Korea, while collaborating on a California statewide SEL initiative called CalHope Student Support. She is also conducting cross-cultural comparative studies using international survey data on student social-emotional outcomes.
